

he lived at Lavalette at that time. I imagine John Kight was a boy about 13 or 14 years old at that time and he -- I haven't seen him to speak to about this, but he told somebody that he came to my house that evening and got some bait for fishing and I haven't seen him this fall at all and he was taken over and questioned by Senator Simpson; the people that were questioned by Senator Simpson were Kight, Arthur Applegate, George W. Johnson, Mayor Van Camp and Mellinger.

Q How about Eger?

A And Eger, yes.

Q BY MR. PFEIFFER:

Q Was Piard questioned?

A I don't think so.

Q BY MR. PALZER:

Q McGonigel was, wasn't he?

A Later, after Senator Simpson was down there, I believe someone saw McGonigel and McGonigel said he wouldn't say a word until the time came when he was willing to testify. Now, that's just hearsay on my part; I have never talked to McGonigel.

Q Now, when was the first time you were questioned by the authorities in 1922?

A They asked me to go over to New Brunswick and
